

Curtis Edgecombe

Curtis is General Manager for Gallagher Security. He is responsible for the leadership and management of Gallagher Group's global security systems business. Gallagher is a world leading manufacturer & vendor of electronic access control and perimeter security systems.

Curtis has a background as Regional Manager Asia for Downer MBL Limited, a subsidiary of Australian listed engineering group, Downer EDI Ltd. He was responsible for the development of business throughout Asia and for the management of all regional projects for the business.

Prior to being posted to Asia in 2001 he held various senior management roles with Downer MBL with responsibility for international marketing and business development.